Gunpowder House in English Harbour offers a rare blend of historic charm, elegance, and Caribbean beauty. The villa sits on the water's edge, built around a carefully restored 18th-century gunpowder store, and now provides four deluxe one-bedroom suites. Each suite combines modern comfort with a sense of history, while panoramic views of Nelson's Dockyard and the surrounding harbor create a setting that feels truly unforgettable.

The One Bedroom Suites feature a spacious design with air conditioning and a classic four-poster bed that enhances the sense of luxury. A private sitting area gives guests a place to unwind, while satellite television and free Wi-Fi keep entertainment and connection within easy reach.
